IE expo Chengdu: positive signal for the environmental sector in western China

- 317 exhibitors and a hall space of 23,500 m²
- Great political participation from ministries—from provincial to municipal level
- Strong perspectives for the environmental sector in the region

Three successful trade fairs in a row: after IE expo China and IE expo Guangzhou, IE expo Chengdu was the latest to provide new momentum for the environmental industry with focus on the west of China. More than 300 exhibitors and 17,855 visitors participated in the trade fair held from October 13 to 15, 2020 in Chengdu, covering a hall space of 23,500 square meters.

Gang Jiang, Managing Director of Messe Muenchen Zhongmao, emphasizes: "Despite the pandemic the second edition of IE expo Chengdu grew by more than 10 % in exhibition space, demonstrating the huge demand in West China's environmental market." The prevention and control of pollution in the region remains an important issue and is expected to continue to gain priority in politics and society. "Hence, the demand in the environmental protection industry in these regions will increase rapidly", explains Gang Jiang.

Strong market perspectives

In his speech during the opening ceremony, Mr. Guotai ZHUANG, Vice Minister of the Ministry of Ecology and Environment of China stated: "At present, the overall development of the environmental protection industry is very well, the development scale is gradually expanding, the technical level is significantly improving, and the service mode is constantly innovating. In 2019, the total revenue of the national environmental protection industry was about CNY 1.78 trillion, with a year-on-year growth rate of 11.3 %, which is far higher than the growth rate of the national economy in the same period, and the gap between the environmental protection industry and the international advanced level has been narrowing. The central government attaches great importance to energy conservation and environmental protection industry in order to encourage more enterprises to actively invest in tackling key problems and to promote the realization of ecological environmental protection and economic win-win situation." IE expo Chengdu provides an important platform and opportunity for the exchange of different views, the presentation of the latest eco-environmental technologies, the strategic cooperation between industries and enterprises, and the analysis of industrial trends under the dual cycle pattern."

Valuable platform for business opportunities

The exhibitors were relieved that IE expo Chengdu was able to offer them an efficient platform again. Mr. Yu WANG, Sales Director of BEIJING SCINOR MEMBRANE TECHNOLOGY CO., LTD reported: "This edition of IE expo Chengdu brought me great surprise, so we are very satisfied with it. It exceeded my expectation. Both the flow and quality of the visitors were very good, which can prove that the influence of IE expo Chengdu is really very high in West China. During this show, our products got a lot of exposure and were welcomed by the local market. Our company attaches great importance to the western market, nearly one third of our sales revenue are generated in the market of western China, so we expect to get more business opportunities through IE expo Chengdu."

Mr. Zhiyi HE, Director of the Chemical Analysis Laboratory of Sichuan Metallurgical Exploration Design Group Testing Co., Ltd. said: "Our whole laboratory visited the show this year. We saw many familiar suppliers on site, and we talked with them about our demand for laboratory consumables in water and solid waste. We also attended the supporting programs in the solid waste treatment sector and learned a lot about cutting-edge technologies."

Strong support of local partners and authorities

IE expo Chengdu benefits from the strong support of local partners and authorities, for example by the Chengdu Ecological Environment Bureau and the Chengdu Expo Bureau. Leaders from provincial and municipal ministries attended the opening ceremony and the summit forum. More than one hundred executives participated in the “China Ecological Environment Industry Summit Forum” and discussed the industry trends under the new development pattern of national and international dual circulation. In addition, several sub-forums and conferences covered topics in the fields of water, solid waste, soil, air, and environmental monitoring.

The dates of the next IE expo trade fairs in 2021:

- IE expo China, Shanghai: April 20–22, 2021
- IE expo Guangzhou, Guangzhou: September 15–17, 2021
- IE expo Chengdu, Chengdu: July 8–10, 2021
